Reflections from the Rev.

Where do you run for refuge when life gets overwhelming? What truths to do you turn to? I for one, love Psalm 46. So many time in my life I've read it, quoted it, or shared it with someone in their time of need. And being an English lit major...I find this myth about this psalm as it was written in the King James Version fascinating. The King James Version was translated during the early 1600s. The efforted started in 1608 and was finished in 1611.

There was a famous playwright who lived during this time period. You guessed it, Shakespeare. Being a notable literary figure back then, it shouldn't be surprising to know that he helped with this translation? Shakespeare was 46 years old the year before this version was published. Did he put his mark on Psalm 46 to mark his 46th birthday? If you count 46 words from the beginning of the psalm...you'll find the word Shake. If you count 46 words in from the end of the psalm, you'll find the word spear. This means that forever, Shakespeare would be part of the bible.

No matter how many times you've read this Psalm, is it possible to shed new light on its meaning? I would encourage you to read this passage on your own. As I read it this time around, I was reminded of how God redirects our efforts and help us find rest.

Translating this Psalm into our language today, vs 10 just might say "Enough is Enough." This verse in the translation the Message says, "Step out of the traffic! Take a long, loving look at me, your High God, above politics, above everything."

The directive we're most familiar says "Be still." In today's terms, "come aside from the hustle and bustle of daily life and get alone with God." Mmm...that's so true.

Could there be anything else in this Psalm? What about verses 8, 9, and 11? These verse talk about war and fighting. In the midst of a discussion about war and fighting, simply saying "be still", wouldn't that be way too tame? "Enough is enough", that fits better.

What does this mean? Perhaps engaging with someone belligerently could mean we're fighting against God Himself instead of fighting the Lord's battle? Maybe we need to humbly step away from the fight knowing that this belongs to God.

Psalm 46 begins with the words: “The Lord is my refuge and strength, a very present help in time of trouble. Therefore, we will not fear, though the earth gives way ... The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our fortress.” What does this mean for us? This means that you and I can stop fighting in our own strength and rest in Him.

It was April 1521. A ramshackle cart was wobbling its way to Worms in Germany; the cart belonged to a monk named Martin Luther. He was on his way to appear before the Emperor and Catholic prelates to give an account of this new “heresy” he was teaching called “justification by faith alone.” Johann Eck, a German Scholastic theologian and one of the prelates, laid out all of Luther’s writings. He had a very clear request. Martin Luther need to recant and return to a right relationship with the Catholic church. The stakes were very high. The Catholic church did not take to kindly to heresy.

Luther went back to his room that night to think about his answer. As the story goes, his Bible fell open to...Psalm 46. With this encouragement, Luther returned the next morning to stand before his detractors. He was able to tell them, “Unless I am convinced by Scripture and plain reason—I do not accept the authority of the popes and councils, for they have contradicted each other—my conscience is captive to the Word of God. I cannot and I will not recant anything for to go against conscience is neither right nor safe. God help me. Amen.” These words launched the Reformation. No surprise that Psalm 46 became Martin Luther’s favorite Psalm.

During the dark and dangerous periods of the Reformation, Luther would turn to his trusted friend, Philip Melanchthon and exclaim: "Let's sing the 46th Psalm and let the devil do his worst!" It inspired one of Luther's greatest hymns. "A Mighty Fortress is Our God."

No Psalm in all the Psalter better expresses the tremendous truth that God's presence and power are with us in all circumstances than Psalm 46. It tells us about the two kinds of help God offers: a stronghold to which we can flee and a source of strength by which we can face an uncertain future.

Psalm 46 is divided into three stanzas, each ending with this very mysterious Hebrew word "Selah." "Selah" was most likely originally a musical notation indicating a pause in the music. A chance to think about what was just sung. Today we'd say, "Pause and think!"

When the mountains quake, the Lord is my refuge and strength...Selah!
When nations are in uproar and kingdoms fall, the Lord almighty is with us...Selah!
"Enough is Enough! Know that I am God, exalted among the nations...the Lord of Armies is with us...Selah!"

Every new year brings us 365 days of uncertainty. Every new day brings us 24 hours of uncertainty. But in every second of every hour of every day, God's presence and power is available to us. What does the future hold? As long as Psalm 46 is true, I think we got it! Let's remember Psalm 46:10 or really any other part of this Psalm. Or any passage that helps you believe that God's presence and power is available to you. Because it is. Whatever the passage, finish with a hearty Selah!" Because when you do, what you're saying is God...I need to pause and think about that!

A Message from Our Lay Leader

The Almost Christian

Personally, I have been a fan of John Wesley since I became a Methodist. The other day I was having a conversation with a friend from San Diego, and he was sharing with me about a study they were currently doing and specifically that week they were studying about this sermon. So, this month I share a little of this with you.

In 1741, John Wesley preached a sermon titled “The Almost Christian” at Oxford University, where he had studied. The sermon came only three years after his life-changing Aldersgate experience on May 24, 1738, when he described his heart as being “strangely warmed.”

What is an “Almost Christian”?

Wesley argued that an almost Christian is someone who falls short of true, saving faith. This person generally exhibits three main qualities:

Heathen Honesty: Refusing to steal, defraud, or commit injustice; practicing basic civic virtue, truthfulness, and charity toward neighbors.

A Form of Godliness: Avoiding outward sins (such as blasphemy, Sabbath-breaking, drunkenness, or open vice) and actively doing good deeds like feeding the hungry or instructing the ignorant.

Means of Grace and Sincerity: Regularly attending church, reading the Bible, praying, and possessing a sincere, inner desire to please God rather than acting out of mere hypocrisy.

Despite all these external and moral efforts, an almost Christian lacks a true, inward transformation and living trust in Jesus Christ.

What is an “Altogether Christian”?

To be an “altogether Christian,” a person must possess:

The Love of God: A heart completely devoted to and loving God.

The Love of Neighbor: Loving every person (including enemies) as oneself.

Living Faith: A purifying, active faith that brings genuine repentance, inner renewal by the Holy Spirit, and true holiness of life.

And I close with one of John Wesley’s famous quotes:

Do all the good you can, by all the means you can, in all the ways you can, in all the places you can, at all the times you can, to all the people you can, as long as ever you can.

Strive for perfection.

Grace and peace to you all!

Chair Yoga

Chair yoga is a gentle practice in which postures are performed while seated and/or with the aid of a chair. Chair yoga classes typically target those with physical disabilities or aging men and women who find a typical yoga session too challenging. It is also a great form of yoga for beginners or anyone who wants to focus on a gentle practice.
